Art Unit: 2833

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 6, 16, 17 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sato, et al. This connector comprises a housing 1 having a terminal receiving side (with terminals 4A, 4B), a front holder 2 inserted into the housing from the side opposite the male terminals, and a plurality of dovetail joints 15, 16. In regard to claims 16 and 17, the connector also comprises a retention mechanism 43.

5. Claims 15 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sato. Sato does not specifically teach that the dovetail joints are tapered. However, it is well known in general mechanical assembly that tapering such joints forms a tighter joint and allows a more secure connection. As the joints are used by Sato to seal the connection, it would have been obvious to form the joints to converge in the insertion direction in order to form a better connection.

Art Unit: 2833

6. Claim 18 is objected to because at the end, "terminal" lacks antecedent basis. It appears that it should be plural.

7. Claims 1-4 and 7-13 are allowed.

Claims 14, 18 and 19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new grounds of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

9. It is suggested that responses to this final action be faxed to:
(703) 872-9306

Please refrain from sending a confirmation copy, as noted in 37 CFR 1.6(d) and 1.8(b).

Alternatively, responses may be mailed to:
